

Transactional data

Definition

Transactional data is data that describes an event that takes place as an organisation conducts its activities.

Relations

Transactional data	is subtype of	data
Transactional data	is subtype of	data category

Examples

- An offer
- An order
- A contract
- A delivery
- A payment

Reference

DAMA NL (2020). Data concepts for Data Quality Dimensions (DSC). Research paper.
<https://www.dama-nl.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/09/DCS-Data-Concept-System-DDQ-Research-Paper-version-1.2-d.d.-3-Sept-2020.pdf>

From:
<https://datamanagement.wiki/> - Data Management Wiki

Permanent link:
https://datamanagement.wiki/data_concept/transactional_data?rev=1687943695

Last update: 2024/03/08 13:33