

Data user satisfaction

Definition

Data user satisfaction is the extent to which data users expectations are met or exceeded by a product, service, or overall experience.

Notes

Data user satisfaction is the measure of how well a business or organization meets or exceeds the expectations of its data users in terms of data quality, service, and value.

Synonym

Data consumer satisfaction

Life cycle

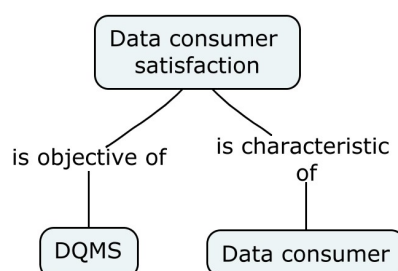

| Phase | Activity |
|-------|--|
| Plan | * Define method for measuring data user satisfaction. |
| Do | * Measure data user satisfaction * Analyse measurement results of data user satisfaction * Follow-up analysis of data user satisfaction * Plan and perform actions of improvement |
| Check | * Evaluate method for measuring data user satisfaction. |
| Act | * Improve method for measuring data user satisfaction |

Relations

Data user satisfaction is one of the two objectives of a data quality management system

Meeting the data quality requirements is the other objective.

- Satisfaction is a characteristic of data user.

Examples

- Example 1: Meet data users of a regular basis and ask for their experience with data quality.
- Example 2: Conduct a survey among data users.

From: <https://datamanagement.wiki/> - Data Management Wiki

Permanent link: https://datamanagement.wiki/data_quality_management_system/data_user_satisfaction?rev=1687624512

Last update: 2024/03/08 13:33