Audit

Definition

An audit is a systematic, independant and documented processs for obtaining audit evidence and objectively assessing it to determine the extent to which audit criteria have been met.

Relation(s)

Subtypes of an audit are internal audit and external audit.

References

ISO 19011 (2011). Guidelines for for auditing management systems.

From:
https://datamanagement.wiki/ - Data Management Wiki

Permanent link:
https://datamanagement.wiki/general_term/audit?rev=1677099538

Last update: 2024/03/08 13:33