

Page format standard

This page format is used for all wiki pages, if applicable. Headings without corresponding text can be deleted.

Example: Apple tree

First letter of the first term uppercase. The rest lowercase.

Definition

An apple tree is a tree {supertype} that bears apples {factors that distinguishes a apple tree from other trees}.

See rules for definitions <http://knowledgemanagement.wiki/index.php?title=Definition>

Synonyms

See <http://knowledgemanagement.wiki/index.php?title=Synonym>

Abbreviations

See <http://knowledgemanagement.wiki/index.php?title=Abbreviation>

Notes

See <http://knowledgemanagement.wiki/index.php?title=Note>

Relations

See <http://knowledgemanagement.wiki/index.php?title=Relation>

Examples:

- Subtypes of an apple tree are a Golden Delicious apple trees, a Pink Lady apple trees.
- Apple tree is part of an orchard.
- Parts of an apple tree are: apples, trunk, branches, roots, etc.
- An apple tree is owned by a fruit grower or any other association.
- Instances of an apple tree are: apple tree 1, apple tree 2, etc.

Lifecycle

See http://knowledgemanagement.wiki/index.php?title=Life\_cycle

For example:

- Plant an apple tree
- Nurish an apple tree
- Harvast an apple tree
- Cut down an apple tree

Characteristics

See <http://knowledgemanagement.wiki/index.php?title=Characteristic> For example:

- Health of an apple tree
- Age of an apple tree
- Maturity of an apple tree

Example(s)

References

See <http://knowledgemanagement.wiki/index.php?title=Reference>

Use APA notation. See APA-generator: <https://www.apa-citation-generator.com/website/>

From:

<https://datamanagement.wiki/> - Data Management Wiki

Permanent link:

<https://datamanagement.wiki/wiki/pageformat?rev=1677340875>

Last update: 2024/03/08 13:33